Sabre appoints Clinton Anderson Senior Vice President, Strategy and Business Development

SOUTHLAKE, Texas, Dec. 18, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- Sabre, a global technology provider, has appointed Clinton Anderson senior vice president of strategy and business development.

In this role, Anderson will be focused on identifying and evaluating organic and inorganic growth opportunities across Sabre, as well as leading the corporate strategy team.

Anderson spent nearly 20 years with Bain and Company as a partner and a leader in Bain's Consumer Products and Performance Improvement practices. In this capacity, Anderson led consulting engagements across many industries to drive profitable growth, operational efficiency and strategic differentiation. He also brings a wealth of global experience, having served clients in the U.S., Canada, Latin America, Europe and Asia.

Most recently, Anderson co-founded Emerson/Anderson, a private investment firm focused on small cap businesses in the U.S. Southwest.

"Clinton is a strong addition to the Sabre executive team," said Tom Klein, president and CEO of Sabre. "In more than two decades with Bain and in his own consulting business, Clinton has built an enviable track record for delivering profitable growth opportunities for clients across several global industries, including the travel industry, as well as identifying innovative emerging technologies to drive customer value."

Anderson received a bachelor's degree from the University of Alberta and an MBA from Harvard Business School.
