

Sabre and WestJet Airlines extend technology partnership

02/09/2026

SOUTHLAKE, Texas and CALGARY, AB, Feb. 9, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- Sabre Corporation (NASDAQ: SABR), a leading global travel technology company, today announced the renewal of its SabreSonic Passenger Service System (PSS) agreement with major Canadian carrier WestJet Airlines. The long-term commitment highlights WestJet's confidence in Sabre's airline technology as they continue their global expansion.

Through this multi-year renewal, WestJet will continue to deploy Sabre's reliable, scalable PSS capabilities, supporting operational excellence while laying the groundwork for future retailing modernization. The extended partnership positions WestJet to seamlessly assess Sabre's next-generation Offer and Order technologies as its business model advances, helping to ensure the airline is at the forefront of future retailing evolution.

"We're delighted to extend our collaboration with Sabre, our trusted technology partner for more than 25 years," said Tanya Foster, WestJet's Group EVP, Chief Information Officer. "With this latest agreement, we're thinking about the needs of our business and our customers both today and tomorrow. Sabre's proven technology, strong support, and forward-looking strategy make them the right partner to enable our strategic initiatives to unlock our growth aspirations for the future."

WestJet, which flies to more than 100 destinations across North & South America, Europe, and Asia, will continue to deploy the SabreSonic PSS, which powers streamlined airline reservations, ticketing, check-in and ancillary services. It also distributes its content through SabreMosaic™Travel Marketplace and is well positioned for future technology adoption through the cloud-native, modular SabreMosaic Airline Retailing platform.

"As WestJet advances its expansion and growth plans, the airline will require increasingly sophisticated retailing capabilities," said Darren Rickey, SVP of Airline IT Sales and Services at Sabre. "This multi-year renewal reflects a strong vote of confidence in Sabre's vision for the future of airline retailing. As the industry shifts toward Offer and Order-based models, WestJet's continued partnership with Sabre signals a shared commitment to that transformation and a belief in the journey ahead."

About WestJet

WestJet took to the skies in 1996 with just over 200 employees and three aircraft operating services to five destinations. Since then, WestJet has pioneered low-cost travel in Canada, cutting airfares in half, and increasing the flying population in Canada by more than 50 per cent. Following the 2025 integration of Sunwing, WestJet now has more than 14,000 WestJetters to support nearly 200 aircraft and connect guests to more than 100 destinations across North America, Central America, the Caribbean, Europe and Asia.

As a major Canadian employer that includes WestJet Airlines, WestJet Vacations, Vacances WestJet Quebec and Sunwing Vacations, the WestJet Group is Canada's leading low-cost airline and largest vacation provider, with a united purpose of providing affordable and accessible air and vacation travel to Canadians.
